Help protect your hard-earned wages and savings.

Just a night or two in the hospital can be more than enough to disrupt anyone's ability to pay their bills and make ends meet.

Once you leave the hospital, you shouldn't have to worry about unexpected financial setbacks during recovery. Things like lost income plus the cost for help with transportation, meals, or even housekeeping can all add up.

By pairing Hospital Indemnity Insurance with medical coverage, you can extend your protection to help with those unexpected costs so you can focus on your health.

- Added protection from financial setbacks after a hospital stay, regardless of any other insurance you may have
- Cash benefits to help offset health insurance deductibles, other out-of-pocket costs or anything you need during recovery
- Benefit payments are based on the number of days spent in the hospital, including observation care

In 2020, the average cost of a hospital stay in the U.S. was $18,400 (for adults ages 45-64.)¹
